The film stars Rajinikanth and Sridevi in the lead roles, while Sathyaraj plays a cameo role. The film's soundtrack was composed by A. R. Rahman. Rajinikanth and Sridevi first teamed up for the Hindi language film Mr. India (1987). They then appeared together in several films including Angada Rasa (1989), Ullathai Allitha (1991), Anniyan (1995), Endrendrum Sakki (1998) and Vedalam (2006). During that time, Sridevi also acted in two Tamil language films—Roja Koottam (1992) and Ninaiveetham (1992)—where she featured as a Tamilian actress and an American actress respectively. Upon the success of Vedalam, the duo has since then collaborated three times—Kanni Thalai (2015), Kodaikanal (2016) and the upcoming John Jani Janardhan (2018)—but have not made a film together since the 2000 Kannada film Kaveri. The film was released on 21 January 1984 to mixed reviews, but emerged as a commercial success. It also marked the acting debut of Sathyaraj who portrayed a double role as a friend of Rajinikanth's and a villain. Sathyaraj reprised the role in his next few films—Neeya Naanaa (2001), Dhool (2003), Vaagai Sollu (2006) and Antha Ezhu Naatkal (2013). Plot Kavitha is a rich girl, she possesses everything a girl can have. Kavitha's father Rajanikantan is a wealthy man, he possesses a huge industrial house, a huge car and has so many other things.
